As a consequence of the COVID-19 health crisis, the Company recommends that shareholders or their proxies not attend the meeting in person at the venue where the meeting will be held, but rather that they participate in the shareholders meeting remotely by: i) granting proxy or voting via remote communications media, or ii) attending the meeting remotely, as provided for in this document. Likewise, and depending on the circumstances, it should be noted that the members of the board may also attend the meeting remotely. The presence of employees and collaborators will be strictly limited to those required to ensure the efficient organization of the meeting.

If it appears that on the date that the meeting is scheduled the measures implemented during the state of emergency continue in place, freedom of movement or assembly is restricted, or any measure or recommendation of the administrative authorities persists, in all or part of Spain, preventing or making it advisable not to hold the shareholders meeting with attendees physically present, the meeting will then be held exclusively by remote means, without the presence of shareholders or their proxies, on the same dates and at the same times announced in this notice of meeting, while applying the special rules set forth herein. In that case, the Company will inform shareholders as soon as reasonably possible and at least five days prior to the date that the meeting is initially scheduled, via a supplementary notice of meeting to be published on the corporate webpage (www.prisa.com), on the webpage of the Spanish securities market authorities CNMV (www.cnmv.es) and in the EL PAIS newspaper, recommending shareholders to periodically review the information available.

BROADCAST OF THE SHAREHOLDERS MEETING AND REMOTE ATTENDANCE

Broadcast of the Shareholders Meeting: The Shareholders Meeting will be broadcast in real time on Internet via the webpage www.prisa.com.

Remote Attendance: Without prejudice to the content of the foregoing paragraphs and pursuant to the provisions of article 11 of the Corporate Bylaws and article 41 del Royal Decree-Law 8/2020 of March 17 on the Extraordinary Measures to Address the Economic and Social Impact of COVID-19, shareholders and shareholder proxies may attend the shareholders meeting remotely by following these procedures:

i) Identification and prior registration of shareholders or their proxies, if any. Shareholders or shareholder proxies who wish to attend the shareholders meeting remotely may register to do so from the date of the publication of this notice, but no later than 13:00 hours (1:00 pm) on June 28, 2020, using the computer program provided for that purpose on the corporate webpage (www.prisa.com), confirming their identity through one of the following: (a) electronic National Identity Card (DNIe); (b) recognized or advanced electronic signature issued by the Spanish Public Certification Authority (CERES) of the Fábrica Nacional de Moneda y Timbre; (c) other means of identification authorized by the Board of Directors that guarantee that the shareholder will be duly identified. Shareholders should likewise fill out the form provided for that purpose, including information necessary to verify their shareholder status.

In addition to the foregoing, so that proxies may attend the shareholders meeting remotely, they must register in advance, as well as demonstrating to the Company that a shareholder has granted them proxy by any of the means referred to in the corresponding section of this notice above ("Right of Representation").

The Company reserves the right to require shareholders or their proxies to provide any additional means of identification deemed necessary to confirm their shareholder status and to confirm their authenticity. The Company may also provide additional means of identification that guarantee that shareholders and proxies are duly identified.

ii) Connection and attendance. Shareholders (or proxies) who have previously registered to attend the shareholders meeting remotely should connect to the remote attendance platform on the day the meeting is to be held between 11:00 am and 12:45 pm, identifying themselves through any of the means listed in section i) above, and following the instructions provided. Attendees will not be allowed to connect outside of the indicated timeframe.

iii) Participation. Pursuant to the provisions of the Capital Companies Act, persons attending the meeting remotely who plan to intervene, propose resolutions, or request information or clarifications in accordance with that law, should send them to the Company in writing via the remote attendance platform between 11:00 am and 13:00 pm on the day the shareholders meeting is held. If the shareholder or his proxy wants the minutes of the meeting to literally reflect his intervention, he should state that expressly in the text of that intervention.

Requests for information or clarifications from shareholders or their proxies attending the meeting remotely will be answered either verbally during the meeting or in writing within seven days after the meeting is held, pursuant to the provisions in that regard in the Capital Companies Act.

iv) Voting. Duly registered shareholders or their proxies who attend the meeting remotely may cast their votes on the proposed resolutions contained on the agenda via the remote attendance platform, from the moment the shareholder or proxy connects until the Chairman or Secretary of the meeting announces that the period for voting on the proposed resolutions on the agenda has concluded.

Concerning the proposed resolutions dealing with matters that, by virtue of law, are not included on the agenda, remote attendees may cast their votes via the remote attendance platform from the moment that the Chairman or Secretary of the meeting read the proposals to be voted on until the period for voting on the proposed resolutions is declared concluded.

v) Priority Rule. Remote attendance at the meeting of a shareholder who granted proxy, however granted, shall render that previously-granted proxy null and void.

vi) Other Matters. With all due guarantees, the Company may adapt these means, to enable shareholders who are non-Spanish residents, qualified investors, and similar persons to attend the shareholders meeting remotely.

In the case of jointly-held securities, the first owner to register shall be deemed the attendee and, thus, any subsequent registration shall be denied to the remaining co-owners. In that regard, and pursuant to article 126 of the Capital Companies Act, the co-owner who is first to register (in person or remotely) shall be deemed to be the person designated by the remaining co-owners to exercise their shareholder rights.

Shareholders (or their proxies) bear the exclusive responsibility for procuring the necessary means of identification required to access and use the remote attendance facility. In the case of legal entities, the entity in question should notify the Company

For all legal effects, remote attendance on the part of a shareholder shall be deemed equivalent to attending the shareholders meeting in person.

Additional information in the event the shareholders meeting is held exclusively via remote means, without the possibility of its shareholders or their proxies attending in person:

As indicated above in this notice of shareholders meeting, if it appears that on the dates on which the shareholders meeting is to be held the measures implemented during the state of emergency continue in place, freedom of movement or assembly is restricted, or any measure or recommendation of the administrative authorities continues in effect, in all or part of Spain, that would prevent or make it advisable not to hold the shareholders meeting with attendees physically present, the meeting will be held exclusively by remote means, without the presence of shareholders and their proxies, on the same dates and at the same times announced in this notice of meeting, applying the following special rules:

i) Shareholders may exercise their rights personally or by proxy by: a) voting or granting proxy through remote communications means, before the shareholders meeting is held, or b) by remote means during the meeting in the terms set forth in this notice of shareholders meeting.

ii) Only personnel who are strictly necessary to facilitate holding the meeting will be authorized to be physically present and, pursuant to the provisions of Royal Decree-Law 8/2020 of March 17 on the Extraordinary Measures to Address the Economic and Social Impact of COVID-19, the members of the Board of Directors and the Notary may attend the shareholders meeting remotely..

iii) The Company will inform shareholders as soon as reasonably possible and at least five days prior to the date that the meeting is initially scheduled, via a supplementary notice of meeting to be published on the corporate webpage (www.prisa.com), on the webpage of the Spanish securities market authorities CNMV (www.cnmv.es) and in the EL PAIS newspaper. Thus, shareholders are advised to periodically review all information available.
